

Delta Goes West with New Service from its Growing Salt Lake City Hub

Customer choice expands with hub as airline adds Salem, Ore. and Yakima, Wash. to flight schedule

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 26, 2007 – Delta Air Lines this spring will expand its fastest growing domestic hub with the addition of daily nonstop service between Salt Lake City and Salem, Ore. and Yakima, Wash., effective June 7, 2007. Delta Connection carrier SkyWest Airlines will operate two daily nonstop flights in each city using the 50-seat CRJ200.

“We’re pleased to provide Salem and Yakima customers with convenient nonstop service to Delta’s fastest growing domestic hub,” said Joe Esposito, managing director - Network Planning. “With the addition of these two markets, our Salt Lake City hub offers customers access to 111 destinations, more cities than any other airline from any hub in the West.”

Additionally, Delta Connection carrier SkyWest Airlines will resume seasonal service from Salt Lake City to Steamboat Springs, Colo., between June 8 and Sept. 3, 2007, and will add summer seasonal service in Montrose/Telluride, Colo., between May 25 and Sept. 22.
